

2022 EXHIBITION SCHEDULE

Into the Open

January 21 – February 19, 2022

To bring something into the open means it is made public, not subject to concealment or obfuscation. The exhibition, Into the Open, intends to do just that; to make more visible the diverse and formidable work of Detroit-area artists, Mariam Ezzat, Heloisa Pomfret, Priscilla Phifer, Alice Smith, Mandisa Smith, and Jessica Wildeman-Katz. The varied art and design elements co-mingle via both 2D and 3D work, presenting a rich tapestry of talent and craftsmanship.

Annual Scholarship Awards & Exhibition – Wayne State University

March 11 – April 9, 2022

The 2021 Annual Scholarship Awards and Exhibition celebrates emerging artists from Wayne State University. Also featured in this exhibition are works from outstanding WSU alumni and faculty. Three student finalists will receive the John F. Korachis scholarships.

—Organized by John F. Korachis

FINDING HOME: Stories of Displacement

April 22 – May 21, 2022

FINDING HOME: Stories of Displacement reflects on stories of home, displacement, and memory while exploring narratives of specific marginalized communities in America, through the eyes of Detroit artists. FINDING HOME showcases work that advocates against displacement while shedding light on its historical consequences. This reflection is especially necessary during the COVID-19 crisis.
